MORPH. COFFEE TABLE

In the digital universe morphing is a process of metamorphosis that describes the evolution from one form to another over a given period of time. Following the brand philosophy, we designed the morph coffee table as a design exercise that not only explores new forms but also prospects new functions. The classic marble coffee tables are reinterpreted and transformed into a design object with four articulated levels. Each level may respond to a specific function according to the user's habits. Available in Carrara and Zimbabwe, it fits the scale of our homes and public spaces.

Morphing shapes, textures and functions.
